

Kids are worth it

INFO SHEET FOR DCPS EDUCATORS

Thank you for being part of the Fundred Dollar Bill Project initiative with the DC Public Schools! Below and enclosed you will find all that you need for participation. We look forward to seeing your Fundreds!

Enclosed are the following:

- Letter from Fundred Team to Educators
- Fundred Unit Overview
- Fundred Templates (with annotated instructions)
- Fundred Bundle Bands

HOW TO PARTICIPATE

1. Maximize Engagement

Start with the Unit Overview and get creative with your own lesson plan, inviting participation from your classes, the whole school, and your greater school community.

2. Get Drawing

Your unique vision for your classroom Fundred workshops will help students embrace this collective effort and become part of the solution. Remember only one Fundred per person.

3. Prepare your Fundreds for collection

Once you have completed your Fundreds, bundle and label your school's contributions using the provided Fundred Bundle Bands. Fundred drop off and pick up will begin as the week of February 13, more details coming soon...

4. See your artwork on view

Your Fundreds will join hundreds of thousands from across the country in the exhibition "Kids are Worth It" at the Corcoran School of Art & Design from February 22 – March 12. Invite your students and families to visit – be on the lookout for an invitation to share!

Extra Credit

Interested in getting in more involved? Students can participate in Fundred beyond the classroom. Consider creating a performance, video or other creative project as part of this citywide effort. Contact Amanda Wiles to share student proposals:

amanda@fundred.org

The Fundred Team, DCPS Arts, The Corcoran School of the Arts & Design at George Washington University and Washington Project for the Arts are working on details for upcoming pick-up / delivery of your Fundreds.

More details and an invitation for a special reception at the Corcoran will be sent by early February!